

PROJECT PROFILE

PROJECT OVERVIEW

TSYS is a leading provider of merchant payment services headquartered in Columbus, GA. As their organization grew, they needed to redesign their existing space to support this growth. An old warehouse space was selected to become a world class call center complete with an open space and collaborative meeting elements.

During Phase 1 of the installation, modular power was run along the base of each workstation and standard Allsteel power units were fixed to the worksurface to bring power to desk height. During use, associates found that both power and USB were desired to accommodate the growing number of mobile devices that are used. In addition, they wanted the flexibility to move the power units to different areas of their workstations rather than them being secured in place.

For Phase 2 of the project, Malone office worked with ECA's representatives, Southeast Furniture Reps, to identify a solution to meet their client's requirements. ECA's Seclusion was able to accommodate their power and USB charging needs. In addition, it was sturdy enough to be used within the workstation without using a mount, providing them with the flexibility to move the units around the workspace.
